

COMMUNITY BUILDER AWARD

PRESENTED TO:

MEGAN SHERIDAN

The Community Builder Award recognizes individuals who make a significant impact by supporting local organizations and fostering a strong sense of community. These individuals dedicate their time and efforts to enhance the lives of others and build connections within the neighborhood.

Nominated by: Sally Franz

Summary of Nomination:

Every week, Megan helps ensure that families in Itasca have one less worry: access to food. Through the Itasca Food Pantry, she makes a direct impact on neighbors' lives, organizing deliveries, coordinating volunteers, and making sure the pantry is ready and welcoming when clients arrive on Saturday mornings.

Her work doesn't stop there. She has guided the creation of food pantries in Wood Dale and Addison, sharing her experience so other communities can provide the same vital lifeline to those in need. Megan knows that the pantry is more than just food; it is a place of support, dignity, and connection. She greets every visitor with care, and from unloading donations to coordinating weekly operations, no task is too small or too large for her hands-on approach.

Through her dedication and energy, Megan strengthens the bonds of the community, ensuring that neighbors do not face challenges alone. Her work embodies the spirit of giving and collaboration, making Itasca a stronger, kinder, and more connected place for everyone.

On behalf of the Village, we honor Megan with the Community Builder Award, celebrating her commitment to supporting neighbors, fostering community connections, and making a meaningful difference in the lives of those in need.
